APOLOGY TO HOUSE MADE BY BLANTON

Intended All Objectionable Language to Be Omitted From Published Speech.

Representative Thomas L. Blanton. democrat of Texas, who escaped expulsion from the House Thursday by margin of eight votes, apologized to the House yesterday for his action in inserting obscene language in the Congressional Record, which has caused the effort to unseat him. His letter of apology was sent to the Speaker, read to the House and warmly applauded, especially by the republican members who had led the effort to expel him.

The Texan, occupying the same seat from which he arose to defend himself against the charge that he had had printed in the Congressional Record an obscene affidavit relating to a conversation between two printers, took no part in the brief discussion preceding the presentation of the apology.

The letter was laid before the House by Representative Walsh, re-publican. Massachusetts, acting in speaker Gillett's absence. Text of Letter.

It read:

"I am involved in no issue now before the House, hence what I now say is not a sacrifice of any principle.

"When I expressed a wish of being able to place before the country the record expunged I was misunderstood by my colleagues, who believed that I would circulate the objectionable language. My intention was not to do this, but to circulate the expunged record with all the objectionable words and abbreviations contained in the employe's affidavit eliminated and circulated only to show to the country the honest bona fide pupose of my remarks.

Weeks had just finished a twelve-hour luspection of the government property and wore a shining mussel shell on the lapel of his coat.

"I have seen it all," he said. "I can now visualize the whole proposition and hope I may be able to make a business-like recommendation to a business-like Congress.

"As soon as I make up my own mind, this will be done," he continued. "I have accomplished the purpose for which I came, and can now discuss understandingly the material side of the problem."

Referring to the physical property.

Further Expunging Refused.

Speaking in behalf of Mr. Blanton. Representative Garrett of Tennessee, acting democratic leader, prior to the reading, asked that four words used by the Texan in answering Representative Longworth, republican, Ohio, be stricken out of the permanent record of Congress on the ground that they had been uttered in the stress of debate and were not intended. Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the republican leader, objected.

Mr. Longworth had asked Mr. Blanton if there was any truth in the report that he had expressed an intention of sending out 250,000 copies of his speech expunged from the record last Monday, and he had replied that if financially able he would put it in the bands of every maile voter in the country, "just as it is." It was agreed among republicans that Mr. Longworth had put the Texan "on a limb," and that probably two score or more who had been in doubt voted for expulsion simply because of the member's own statement.

Mr. Weeks made emphatic denial to a charge which he said had reached his ears that the administration is republic. With the said had reached his ears that the administration is republic. Mass Meeting of Colored Folk Urges Condemnation of "Social Equality" Move.

Indorsement of President Harding's address in Birmingham, Ala. in which he urged political and economic equality for the colored population, was given in a resolution adopted at a mass meeting in the Cosmopolitan Baptist Church last night under the suspices of the White Cross Free Labor Bureau.

Mr. Blanton said he would have eliminated the words "just as it is" before printing, but in the distress that followed a vote of censure by the House and a public reprimand by the Speaker he had overlooked them. These were the words Mr. Garrett had asked to be eliminated upon the insistence of Mr. Mondell.

Mr. Blanton told members he merely wanted to say in reply to Mr. Longworth, that he would reprint and circulate his own speech, without including profane and obscene words, abbreviated, alleged to have been used by employes of the printing office and put into the form of an affidavit and filed with the public printer.
